Got2bWireless Launches New Bluetooth Car Kits

Wednesday, 09 December 2009 07:26

Got2bWireless has entered the marketplace with a line of innovative handsfree Bluetooth car kits. This line can mean significant hardware and installation revenue for specialty 12volt retailers. Tim Suri, an industry veteran in the handsfree Bluetooth category, is leading the company's launch. Suri told 12voltnews.com "Our mission is to lead the new brand-driven handsfree market with designs and technology ranging from smart and complex to simple. Products will be positioned for affordable handsfree solutions."
